Support Prescott's Only Native American Culture and Art Museum!

The Museum of Indigenous People is a venue where the Native voice is heard. We have a handful of employees and a marvelous team of volunteers, several of whom are Native. The museum's holdings contain pre-historic, historic, and contemporary examples of American Indian cultural and artistic material from the southwestern United States and northern Mexico. The museum relies financially upon membership dues, admissions, Trading Post sales, donations, and grants. The MIP is a 501(c)(3) corporation, EIN # 86-0702971, allowing donations to be tax deductible for our donors.

As a new member of the Museum of Indigenous People, you gain access to the world of American Indian culture. Classes, lectures, and a library are available to you. Your admission to the museum is free of charge. You'll discover the Trading Post gift shop, stocked full of Native made arts and crafts and you'll receive a discount on all purchases. In addition, you'll receive advanced notice of upcoming events, programs, and educational opportunities, as well as invitations to special members-only events. Help us care for a unique assemblage of cultural resource materials which has been expanding since 1921.

Come and join us! Explore the wealth of resources available to you and grow with us!

The MIP offers a selection of MEMBERSHIP LEVELS to suit your household needs.

The following membership levels will take effect January 1, 2025.

Benefits for All Members

All membership levels entitle the members to a 10% discount on most merchandise in the Trading Post, and they come with a free subscription to our quarterly newsletter, the Talking Sun.
